Nest Collection

The Low Nest Table series is a warm and textured table series that ages beautifully. The curved surface is robust and convivial, a movable table in a natural material for people to comfortably gather around, hosting meetings and casual collaborative activities. But the tables are not all social objects, they work well as single workstations, creating an atmosphere that merges private and common spaces.

Extruding warmth and character, the solid oak tables come in eight different sizes, easy to place in any setting. Swift to clean, maintain and repair — an honest, hospitable and practical part of the Nest series, built to last for generations.
