Proto

The Proto collection is Nick Ross' interpretation of +Halle's brief on dwelling, inspired by our desire to seek shelter from an overstimulated public realm. "I was thinking literately about what I felt the word dwelling meant, and it brought me back to an early type of refuge," says Scottish-born, Stockholm-based designer Nick Ross, "I wanted to create a feeling of a primal place, for instance, tucking yourself into a corner."

Proto is a series of curved, upholstered chairs, sofas, benches and stools, working as a dynamic dwelling, referencing huts more than rooms with four walls. With the additional hidden swivel base, available for all Proto chairs, the intuition to turn the seat is now even more natural than before. "Modular seating is usually something that extends in a straight line or perhaps through a bend, but I wanted to look at Proto in a more archaic way as if you are sculpting these pieces out of clay," says Ross.

Nick Ross' design practice takes its inspiration from philosophy and art. Well-researched, the shapes and forms he unveils are carefully created in response to human stories, new behaviours and historic crafts. It is the poetry Ross' minimal yet considered work that stands out, filled with vivid narratives and beautiful ideas.

Tactility, through both materiality and finish, runs through Ross' collections, which creates an inviting sense of humanism around everything the studio produces.

Clarity of purpose

We believe that furniture should have clarity of purpose. This belief informs all of our work as we continue to explore and foster behavioural-led public spaces.
